

Tempus Project CD_JEP_40035
Building the European Food Science Education in B&H
MASTER PROGRAM

Agricultural and Food Sciences Faculty
University of Sarajevo

Wednesday, April 30th, 2008

FIRST STUDENTS WORKSHOP

AGENDA

- 09:00-09:15 Gathering of participants
- 09:15- 09:30 Welcome by Coordinator, FAFS Sarajevo, prof. dr. Esmā Velagić-Habul
- 09:30-10:15 Presentation of University of Hohenheim , prof.dr Heinz Dieter Isengard
- 10:15-11:00 Presentation of University of Agro-Paris-Tech, prof.dr Eric Spinler
- 11:00-11:15 Coffe Break
- 11:15-12:00 Presentation of University of BOKU, dr Max Goritschnig
- 12:00-14:00 Students discussion
- 14:00-16:00 Lunch Break

Minutes of

The First student workshop

The first student workshop was held on the April 30th 2008 on the Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences in Sarajevo. The aim and purpose of the workshop was for the graduate students to get acquainted with the EU partner universities, so that they could more competently decide on which of the partner universities they would like to do their master thesis. With the above mentioned purpose representatives of universities from Hohenheim, Paris and Vienna presented their institutions. Through the presentations students had the opportunity to learn about the range of material resources which each of the partner institutions have at their disposal. Also, the students were offered information on different scientific areas and topics for their master thesis and potential professors who could serve as mentors on various partner institutions.

The following representatives were present on the workshop:

- University of Hohenheim, Prof. Hainz-Ditrich Isengard
- University of AgroParisTech, Prof. Eric Spinler
- University of BOKU Vienna, Prof. Max Goritschnig
- Vice dean for education the Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences in Sarajevo, Prof. Milenko Blesić
- Vice dean for international cooperation Faculty of Agronomy Mostar, Prof. Dijana Vargo
- Members of B&H consortium
- All the graduate students

Following the presentations of EU partner universities, students first consulted among themselves, and then initiated a discussion with a list of questions they had prepared. The discussion, which was highly efficient, concluded with all of the students having had chosen scientific area in which to do their thesis and a universities on which to do it during the fourth semester of the study course.

The list of graduate students' choices of areas and university is as follows:

University of Hohenheim

Bajraktarević Asim – area: Process engineering

Nikolin Idjaković – area: Technology of cereals

Nedim Hadžimerović- area: Dairy production

Dado Osmić: area: yet unknown

University of AgroParisTech:

Nina Dobrijević – area: Fermentation technology

Mirela Kaltak – area: Microbiology

Svjetlana Sakić – area: Microbiology of cheeses

Ružica Draić – area: Fermentation technology

University of BOKU Vienna

Bernisa Klepo – area: Food quality management

Berina Musić – area: Food quality management

Sergej Papoči – area: Nutrition

Aida Šuša – area: Food quality management

The second student workshop is to be held in October month 2008, until which time the above stated list should be finally adopted.

